

Designer Renato Toso, Noti Massari e Roberto Pamio

1968

Mvsevm exclusively presents the re-edition of the Lara sofa, originally designed in 1968 by Renato Toso, Noti Massari, and Roberto Pamio, and first produced by Corrado Ruosi's Stilwood.

An iconic and highly scenic piece, Lara was a visionary creation during a time of profound social and cultural change, when even the concept of living was being redefined.

Today, just as back then, Lara captures the need to create islands of relaxation devoted to emotional comfort, while its innate elegance makes it ideal for hospitality settings as well.

The sofa is composed of two sculptural elements joined in a precise interplay of volumes, with monobloc seats and flowing curves that enhance its bold, contemporary personality.

Lara Stilwood

Lara's interior has been completely redesigned to offer an even higher level of comfort.

The wooden frame is padded with high-resilience, high-density polyurethane foam in differentiated thicknesses, and wrapped in a polyester fiber cover for a soft yet supportive feel.

The seating system features elastic webbing with a high rubber content and controlled elasticity, ensuring the perfect balance between support and flexibility.

The sofa rests on recessed technical feet, creating a visual effect of lightness and suspension.
Lara is available in the selected fabrics and leathers from the Mvsevm collection.
