

AXIUM Tv unit

Designer: Giuseppe Viganò

Year: 2025

DESCRIPTION:

Giuseppe Viganò wanted to explore the balance between full and empty spaces: designed to be both a TV cabinet and a sideboard, Axiom finds its perfect place in more urban-style environments, but also in a contemporary dining area. Two storage compartments offer a practical space for storing everyday objects, helping to maintain order and functionality not only in the living area but also in the office. The lateral space is ready to accommodate lamps, sculptures or small design objects, emphasizing the lightness of the entire structure.
